

A quick cheat sheet for your emotions:

Day 1 – What the hell did I just do...

Day 2 – OMYGOD I LOVE THEM

Day 3 – Why the f did she make them so dark?

Day 4 to 5 – Ok, these are perfect and beautiful.

Day 6 to 8 – The Crusty brow stage. You will ask your loved one if they look weird. They will say, “no.” They are lying.

Day 9 to 10 – The eyebrow scabs are now flaking off non-uniformly.

Day 11 to 14– You will be convinced that the pigment didn’t take and Google “Microblade Fails.” You will regret that more than anything else.

Day 14+ – You will love your brows and end up trying to convince your friends that the roller coaster is worth it.

I do not promise that your friends will not block you on Snapchat after you share all your days with them... but I will promise you will love your brows! Even through the roller coaster of emotions.
